FOUNDERS' MESSAGE

MAKING GOVERNMENTAL PURCHASING SIMPLE.

Clark and Tricia Ricke, Federal Contracts Company (FCC) founders, started with a simple, visionary concept: simplify governmental agency purchasing. In 2003, they set out on a journey to do just that, simplifying the purchase of construction equipment for federal government agencies.

From converted office space in their Odessa, FL home, the hard work of turning a concept into reality began. During that first year, sales exceeded $18,000. Undeterred by those modest results, Clark and Tricia continued investing long hours, confident their determination to serve the best interests of governmental agencies was the right thing to do.

During 2005, FCC added a third team member; then moved to an official office space during 2006. By 2009, FCC had grown to five team members representing eight manufacturers to federal government agencies. That year, Clark and Tricia also purchased their first office building on Nebraska Avenue in Tampa, FL.

By 2014, FCC had grown to 10 team members representing 26 manufacturers. A second office building was purchased and incorporated into the first building, creating a 7,600 sq. ft. space for the growing business.

Over time, FCC expanded its reach into state, local, and education contracts, as well as the military branches. Additionally, FCC has expanded beyond construction machinery into law enforcement equipment and aviation.

In 2024, FCC grew to 25 team members, representing 56 manufacturers to federal, state, and local agencies, and the military. During the past 20 years under the Ricke's stewardship, FCC's sales volume has grown every year. FCC is recognized as one of the United States' premier federal small business contractors.

Under the leadership of Clark's brother, Steve, the FCC team is poised to continue carrying the founders' original vision forward: make governmental purchasing simple.
